Recent BCA graduate with a deep passion for full stack development, eager to transition into a professional role in the field. Despite having limited hands-on experience, I have a solid understanding of core programming principles and am highly motivated to expand my skills. I am committed to learning new technologies and best practices to contribute effectively to development projects. My enthusiasm for coding and problem-solving drives me to quickly adapt and thrive in dynamic environments. I am looking for opportunities where I can grow, apply my foundational knowledge, and make a meaningful impact.
